

CLIMATE-SMART AGRI-AQUA CULTURE IN AFRICA

COMBINING COPERNICUS DATA

Lake Victoria Basin

KijaniSpace is transforming agri and aqua culture for smallholder farmers in Africa by combining Copernicus satellite data and Internet of Things technology. The project helps boost productivity, optimize resource use, and support farmers in adapting to climate challenges, all while promoting sustainable practices and empowering local communities to thrive.

SPACE

IoT KIT

AGRICULTURE

Use Case

- Fish Farms
- Crop Farms

Project Results

Pilot Farms Demonstration

Showcasing climate-smart practices on 10 pilot farms to highlight real-world benefits.

Innovation Program for SMEs

Supporting SMEs in adopting new technologies through a dedicated innovation program.

Talent Program

Nurturing future agricultural innovators with a specialized talent program.

JOIN US NOW
www.kijanispace.eu

Funded by the European Union

Contact Us

+49 351 47004725

www.kijanispace.eu